Credit unions are not-for-profit cooperatives organized to provide members with low cost financial services. Seventy million Americans currently save and borrow through their memberships in America's over 10,000 credit unions.

Credit unions are not open to the public. Instead, credit unions are comprised of persons sharing a common bond. MAMTA was chartered by the U.S. government over 70 years ago to serve the employees (and their immediate families) of the Mamaroneck and Rye Neck School Districts.
